

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

The FCC has sold out to the very people that the FCC is supposed to regulate. Consider the foul language, violence, and(near ?) pornographic displays on television. In addition, the duration of commercials in an hour of television broadcasting has become absurd.

My telephone service in Van Wert, Ohio costs $15.50 per month. There is an additional $13.89 in (allowable) fees. Somebody is ripping off the public, with the cooperation of the U.S. government. Where are our elected officials the are supposed to be out watchdogs.

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Dean Williamson
